

Shane Brown is an avid boater who has been doing so for over 30 years. Shane's life experience includes serving in the US Marine Corp. a career in Law Enforcement and currently works for the Department of State, Diplomatic Security Services. Shane was afforded the opportunity to travel all over the world but has never strayed too far from the waters of the east coast. For the past 15 years Shane has lived and boated up and down the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay. Shane has a lot of experience with all kinds of boats and welcomes the chance to help you, find the perfect boat!